

International Astrostatistics Association

<https://asaip.psu.edu>
hilbe@asu.edu ; j.m.hilbe@gmail.com

Joseph M. Hilbe, PhD, President
Arizona St Univ; Jet Propulsion Laboratory
7242 W. Heritage Way, Florence, AZ 85132

4 July, 2015

Greetings:

The editor of Significance magazine has made the astrostatistics articles of the December 2014 issue available for viewing for the remainder of July. If you have not had the opportunity to read the articles and look at the visuals accompanying them, I urge you to do so. You have access to the articles at the following URL

<http://www.significancemagazine.com/2343-will-this-century-see-a-devastating-meteor-strike>

The title of the section is “Life, the Universe and Everything” (J Hilbe)

Articles include:

Will this century see a devastating meteor strike? (J Hilbe, J. Riggs)

Impact records (C. Zapponi)

The origin of structure (B Wandelt)

Making sense of massive unknowns (R de Souza, E. Ishida)

Revealing the invisible (J. Cisewski)

How many galaxies in the universe? (V. Surdin)

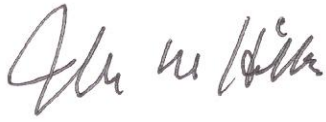

How do you weight a cluster of galaxies? (M. Killedar)

Is the All-There-Is all there is? (R. Trotta)

How will the universe end? (C Impey)

Best, Joseph Hilbe

Best,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "J. M. Hilbe". The signature is fluid and cursive, with the first letters of each name being capitalized and prominent.

Joseph M. Hilbe
President